

Nightly Builds

What are Nightly Builds?

Nightly builds are builds which are built and published automatically every night without any additional testing from JetBrains' side. Only our internal automated tests are passed.

 Pre-release software. Nothing is guaranteed
Be careful: there is absolutely NO GUARANTEE that a nightly build will even run!

You can try it at your own risk and post your feedback (as for EAP builds - into the newsgroup/forum and JIRA). However, if someone tried a nightly build and reported us a problem which is critical, we add corresponding notes to the builds table. Also after some period of testing (e.g. 1 day) if there were no critical problems reported/found, we've add Stable mark for the build.

 Legend
Nightly - ordinary nightly build
EAP - this build has been also published on the EAP Builds page
EAP candidate - we are going to publish this build on the EAP Builds page after some testing

Not tested - nobody has checked the build, you can download it at your own risk
Works here - our team have tried the build and it's more less working for us
Stable - no critical problems has been found so far
Not recommended - there are serious problems in the build and we do not recommend to use it

To comment on quality of certain builds please use jetbrains.resharper.eap newsgroup (or web mirror).
